GLS, Inc. Announces Spectacular 12-Month Growth Rate

Owner Attributes 30% Growth to Developing New Markets

Indianapolis, June 19, 2008: GLS, Inc. today announced a year-end growth rate of just over 30%. This is the highest single year growth rate GLS has experienced since it began operations in 2003. Indianapolis based GLS, a minority-owned business enterprise (MBE), attributes part of its dramatic growth on smart strategic planning and its ability to react quickly to market realities.

Since its founding, GLS had focused primarily on excavation, demolition, site logistics, and landscaping markets. However, recent moves into new scopes of work, such as trenching and boring, have allowed GLS to build on an already solid foundation and adapt to a continually developing Central Indiana construction market.

GLS owner, Granville Singh, says of the company's recent success, "GLS has a built a solid reputation over our short life. This company has many strengths, but our greatest strength is our ability to act on market opportunities yet continue to provide high quality work to all of our clients."

GLS has an extensive and varied list of clients including such notable names as Eli Lilly, FA Wilhelm, BMW Constructors, RL Turner, Roche Diagnostics, and the City of Indianapolis. "The relationships we've built with our clients and our workers are among the best in this industry. Those relationships are what drive us to be as good as we can be every single day." Singh added.
